Upon entering the house through the marble entrance hall, you are immediately struck by the architecture of Jenny Mills. The house is designed for a comfortable and seamless connection between indoor and outdoor spaces, which include a braai area, pizza oven, meticulously maintained garden, wooden decks, and a large L-shaped pool. Open concept living at its finest. Two living areas, a dining room, and a chef's kitchen. The house also includes a wine cellar, cinema room, gym, and sauna. The upper floor comprises five bedrooms with ensuite bathrooms, with the master bedroom offering a spacious walk-in closet, a security room, and what is called a "pajama lounge." There are also staff rooms, a laundry, garages, and a security room. The house is equipped with an elevator, backup generators, and a water system.
